Does Online Doctors replace my family physician?

Online Doctors is not intended to replace the care of a family physician. Online Doctors can be helpful for those that do not have a family physician, and for those that do, we provide a way to manage urgent primary care issues that arise when you cannot get in to see your family doctor.

Will my physician be upset if I use Online Doctors?

No. Family physicians appreciate Online Doctors' role in providing after hours care to their patients. If a patient goes to a walk-in clinic, the physician is sometimes deemed by the provinces to not have provided adequate health coverage so they may impose negative financial consequences upon the doctor. Since Online Doctors is privately funded by the employer, there is no negative financial impact to the physician for patients using Maple. In fact, many physicians prefer patients use Maple (opposed to the ER or walk-in clinic) as medical records can be shared back to them. Maple has generated a lot of support from physician offices because it helps to bear the burden of providing round the clock care, with no impact to their billings.

Is my health information private?

Yes, your personal health information is completely private. When you use our services, your session is protected by a comprehensive security infrastructure and stringent data policies. Each consultation is always delivered by a Canadian licensed physician who is required to maintain your confidentiality, just as they would in their office. Check out Maple's Privacy Policy for a more in-depth description.

Is using Online Doctors safe?

Think of Maple as the connecting platform between you and GPs. Just like an in-person visit, the GP is responsible for assessing your situation, understanding your medical history, asking you questions about your symptoms, and providing treatment accordingly. If the GP is not able to help on Maple, they will let you know to visit a clinic or a hospital instead.

Can I access Online Doctors while traveling outside Canada?

Yes. Maple is available globally for Canadian residents. This means patients who are traveling outside of Canada can use the service anywhere in the world to connect with a Canadian physician. There is a limitation with prescriptions, as Canadian physicians do not have jurisdiction to prescribe outside of Canada. Not every medical issue requires a prescription (only approximately 40% do, which is aligned with physician office visits).

If I leave my employer can I still access Online Doctors at no charge?

No. But you will still be able to access the Maple app and manage your health record information that exists in the app. If you click on "See the Doctor", you will be required to pay for your visit.
