Stay safe and avoid illness

- Eat carefully if you're going to a country with an increased risk of traveler's diarrhea. Well-cooked, steaming-hot food is usually safest. Avoid eating foods from street vendors, unpasteurized dairy products and raw or undercooked seafood.
- Peel fruits yourself. Drink water from commercially - sealed bottles. Avoid ice. Use bottled water when you brush your teeth.
- If you're going to a country with a risk of malaria, your doctor may prescribe preventive medicine. Remember to start taking your malaria medicine before, during and after your travels as prescribed by your doctor.
- If your destination is a country with an increased risk of mosquito-borne disease, protect yourself. Insect repellents that contain DEET are the most effective. Wear permethrin-coated clothing and use bed nets while you sleep.
- Try to avoid using overcrowded public transportation and choose vehicles with safety belts, if possible. Wear a helmet if travelling by bicycle or motorcycle and avoid driving at night or in unfamiliar areas without local guidance.
